WHY IS KUSH PROTEINS PVT. LTD. INVESTING IN CORN OIL?

Refined Corn Oil Emerges as a Popular and Nutritious Alternative to Other Cooking Oils in India.

Over the past 4-5 years, the production of corn oil in India has almost doubled, with the oil gaining popularity among consumers and manufacturers alike. Corn oil is now consumed more frequently in the states of Gujarat and Maharashtra, as compared to other parts of the country. The demand for corn oil is projected to grow significantly in the near future due to its high nutritional value and numerous health benefits, making it an effective substitute for regular oils.

Traders report that the consumption of soybean oil has decreased compared to last year, while the prices of sunflower oil have risen. This, along with a decrease in the supply of oilseed oil this year, has led to an increase in demand for refined corn oil. Major manufacturers of products such as snacks and sweets, who used soybean oil earlier, are now using corn oil due to its versatility. With a high smoke point, it can be used for frying and other high-heat cooking methods, and its mild flavor won't overpower other ingredients, making it an ideal choice. This makes corn oil a sought-after ingredient in a variety of food products.

The global market for corn oil is projected to grow at a compounded annual growth rate of 7.97% from 2022 to 2027. This growth can be attributed to the increasing demand for corn oil in the industry, which will drive its growth over the forecast period. As a result, corn oil is expected to become increasingly important in the food industry.

The major snacks and sweets manufacturers, as well as consumers, are increasingly demanding healthier and sustainable food products. Corn oil fits the bill perfectly with its numerous health benefits, versatility in the food industry, and sustainable production process. Kush Proteins Private Limited is excited to be at the forefront of this exciting new development as a company committed to providing high-quality and innovative products.

In conclusion, refined corn oil is emerging as a popular and nutritious alternative to other cooking oils in India. With its high nutritional value, numerous health benefits, versatility in cooking, and sustainable production process, corn oil is expected to become increasingly important in the food industry. As a result, manufacturers and consumers alike are turning to corn oil as a healthier and more sustainable choice for their cooking needs.
